EXT. PROLOGUE - DAY

GALADRIEL (V.O.)
(Elvish whispering)

I amar prestar aen...
The world is changed.

Han mathon ne nen...
I feel it in the water.

Han mathon ne chae...
I feel it in the Earth.

A han noston ned gwilith...
I smell it in the air.

Much that once was is lost. For none now live who remember it.

A fire flickers. A ring is forged.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
It began with the forging of the great rings.

The high Elves - Galadriel, Gil-Galad and Cirdan - receive their rings. They look at them.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
Three were given to the Elves: immortal, wisest and fairest of all beings.

Seven dwarfs pick up their rings from a pillow and hold them aloft in triumph.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
Seven to the Dwarf Lords: great miners and craftsmen of the mountain halls.

Nine men, each holding a ring, lower them in a synchronous motion as if holding-close a precious secret.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
And nine ... nine rings were gifted to the race of Men, who above all else, desire power.

An ancient parchment map shows the whole of Middle-Earth.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
For within these rings was bound the strength and will to govern each race.

The map moves towards Mordor.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
But they were all of them deceived, for another ring was made.

Sauron, standing at the Crack of Doom, masked and clothed in metal armor, forges the One Ring in the chambers of Sammath Naur.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
In the land of Mordor, in the fires of Mount Doom, the Dark Lord Sauron forged in secret a master ring, to control all others.

The One Ring spins through the air.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
And into this Ring, he poured his cruelty, his malice, and his will to dominate all life.

Sauron wears the One Ring on his right hand. The Ring begins to glow and a red inscription appears.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
One Ring to rule them all.

A shadow spreads across the map from Mordor.
Screaming villagers flee from their burning homes, pursued by Orcs.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
One by one, the free lands of Middle-Earth fell to the power of the Ring.

An army of swordsmen marches across the plains of Dagorlad.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
But there were some ... who resisted.

Men, Elves and Orcs assemble on the battlefield. The Orcs attack the Alliance, rushing across the field that separates the two armies.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
A last alliance of Men and Elves marched against the armies of Mordor, and on the slopes of Mount Doom they fought for the freedom of Middle-Earth.

Elrond gives command to the Elven archers to engage.

ELROND

(in command tone)

Tangado haid! Leithio i philinn!

[Hold positions! Fire arrows!]

The Elves raise their bows and release arrows at the oncoming Orcs, knocking down the first line. As the wave of the Orc infantry reaches the Elven troops, the Elves swing their swords up, slicing the Orcs, one after the other down the line. The Elves and the Men are fully engaged in combat, taking down many of the Orc troops. Elendil raises his sword in triumph.

GALADRIEL (V.O.)

Victory was near. But the power of the Ring could not be undone.

Sauron strides onto the battlefield, towering over both Elves and Men, the One Ring on his finger. He hits groups of warriors, sending them flying across the field.

Elendil raises his sword to strike Sauron, but Sauron parries the blow and flings him against the rock, crushing him to death. Isildur rushes to the fallen warrior. He grasps the hilt of the sword.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)

It was in this moment ... when all hope had faded, that Isildur, son of the King, took up his father's sword.

Sauron stomps down the sword, shattering it. He reaches down towards Isildur, who strikes Sauron's hand with the broken blade of Narsil, slicing the finger that bears the One Ring. Sauron implodes, sending a shock wave throughout the battlefield, knocking the warring troops off their feet. His armor falls unto the ground, his body vaporized.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)

Sauron, the enemy of the Free Peoples of Middle-Earth, was defeated.

Isildur picks up Sauron's ashen finger still wearing the Ring. He takes it into his hand leaving only the One Ring.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)

The Ring passed to Isildur ... who had this one chance to destroy evil forever.

Isildur leads a small column of Men through darkening woods, the One Ring glinting on a chain around his neck.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
But the hearts of Men are easily corrupted. And the Ring of Power has a will of its own.

A band of Orcs ambushes the troops. Isildur is thrown from his horse but stumbles to his feet. In panic, he puts on the Ring, disappears and flees. He jumps into the river Anduin and materializes underwater, when the Ring slips from his finger. Isildur grasps for it. Orcs spot him and fire a barrage of arrows into him. His dead body floats down the river.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
It betrayed Isildur ... to his death.

The ring sinks through the murky waters of the river into the dark.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
And some things that should not have been forgotten were lost.

The waters of the Anduin river lie dark and undisturbed.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
History became legend, legend became myth, and for two and a half thousand years, the Ring passed out of all knowledge.

A small hand, scrabbling on the river-bed, reaches down and grasps the Ring.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
Until, when chance came, it ensnared a new bearer.

The thin white hand opens to reveal the One Ring.

GOLLUM
My Precious.

The mountainside of the Misty Mountains is cloudy and calm.

GALADRIEL (V.O.)
The Ring came to the creature Gollum, who took it deep into the tunnels of the Misty Mountains. And there, it consumed him.

At a pool in a cave, surrounded by decayed fish flesh and bones, Gollum crouches on a stone, holding the Ring.

GOLLUM
 (ecstatic whispering)
 It came to me. My own. My love. My own.
 My precious!
 (louder)
 Gollum!

A silver full moon bathes a lake in cold moonlight. A forest lies dark and still. The sun rises.

GALADRIEL (V.O.)
 The Ring brought to Gollum unnatural long life. For five hundred years it poisoned his mind. And in the gloom of Gollum's cave, it waited. Darkness crept back into the forest of the world. Rumor grew of a shadow in the east, whispers of a nameless fear, and the Ring of Power perceived its time had now come.

The Ring bounces down a chasm in the rocks and falls to the muddy floor of a mountain tunnel.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
 It abandoned Gollum. But something happened then the Ring did not intend.

Bilbo, scrabbling amongst the bones and scree in the cave, comes across the ring.

GALADRIEL (V.O.) (CONT'D)
 It was picked up by the most unlikely creature imaginable.

BILBO
 (surprised)
 What's this?

GALADRIEL (V.O.)
 A Hobbit: Bilbo Baggins of the Shire.

Bilbo gazes in delight and wonder at his find.

BILBO
 A ring!

Frightened by a screaming voice, Bilbo gets to his feet and pockets the One Ring.

GOLLUM (O.S.)
 (shrieking)
 Lost! My precious is lost!

White clouds lie above the Misty Mountains.

GALADRIEL (V.O.)

For the time will soon come when Hobbits will shape the fortunes of all.

INT. BAG END STUDY - DAY

The parchment map moves from the Misty Mountains over Rivendell, Weathertop, Bree and Bywater to Hobbiton before slowly revealing the whole of Middle-Earth.

BILBO (V.O.)

Ahrrmm ... The twenty-second day of September in the year fourteen-hundred,
by Shire-reckoning. Bag End, Bagshot
Row, Hobbiton, Westfarthing, the Shire, Middle-Earth. The Third Age of this world.

The map rests on the floor with several other maps, books, scrolls and similar items of research. Bilbo is seated at his desk, a quill pen in his hand, smoking the pipe.

BILBO

"There and Back Again: A Hobbit's Tale, by Bilbo Baggins". Now ... where to begin? Ah, yes.

He dips the quill in the ink and begins writing.

BILBO (CONT'D)

"Concerning Hobbits."

EXT. HOBBITON - DAY

Everyday scenes in the Shire: Cows pull a plow on a field. A hobbit struggles to move a pig on a rope.

BILBO (V.O.)

"Hobbits have been living and farming in the four Farthings of the Shire for many hundreds of years."

In the market square, Hobbits gather to look over the latest wares, present their stock, and share a drink.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)

"Quite content to ignore and be ignored by the world of the Big Folk. Middle-Earth being, after all, full of strange creatures beyond count, ..."

In the fields, cows are being milked, pathways swept clean, and animals grazed. A Hobbit sleeps next to a pig. Another one seems intent on removing a parasite from his ear.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
"... Hobbits must seem of little importance being neither renowned as great warriors nor counted among the very wise."

INT. BAG END STUDY - DAY

Bilbo pauses and chuckles to himself. He turns to a knock at the door.

BILBO
(calling out)
Frodo! Someone at the door.

Bilbo turns immediately back to his writing.

EXT. HOBBITON - DAY

A hobbit, preparing to kiss his sweetheart, is distracted by a tray of muffins. He grabs one and stuffs it into his mouth.

BILBO (V.O.)
"In fact, it has been remarked by some that the Hobbits' only real passion is for food."

Hobbits prepare for a party in the field. Carrying a barrel of ale on his shoulder, a Hobbit refills his mug as he walks. Three Hobbits sit around smoking pipes.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
"A rather unfair observation, as we have also developed a keen interest in the brewing of ales, and the smoking of pipe-weed."

Hobbits work on a field, while two enjoy a leisurely game in the sunshine. Others are gardening with kids playing around them.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
"But where our hearts truly lie is in peace and quiet and good tilled earth."

Sam plants flowers in front of his house, admiring them.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
"For all Hobbits share a love of things that grow."

Hobbits are setting up for Bilbo's party on a field, struggling to put up a tent. A large birthday banner is raised and applauded.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)
"And yes, no doubt, to others our ways seem quaint. But today, of all days, it is brought home to me: It is no bad thing to celebrate a simple life."

INT. BAG END STUDY - DAY

It knocks on the door again.

BILBO
(calling out)
Frodo, the door!

The knocks become louder and more insistent.

BILBO (CONT'D)
Sticklebacks! Where is that boy?

EXT. HOBBITON WOODS - DAY

BILBO (O.S.)
(calling out)
Frodo!

Frodo leans against a tree in the woods, reading a book.
Birds sing, flowers are scattered among the well seeded grasses and nature is peaceful.

In the distance, he perceives an approaching cart and a horse. Frodo hears the faint singing to the tune of "The Road Goes Ever On and On".

GANDALF
(humming)
*Down from the door where it began.
Hmm... hmm... hmm... hmm...
And I must follow if I can.*

The Hobbit closes his book and stands, listening. He recognizes the voice, smiles and runs off.

EXT. SHIRE LANE - DAY

Gandalf, wearing a gray cloak and a pointy hat, drives a horse-drawn cart through the sunshine on a grassy road next to the forest.

GANDALF (CONT'D)

(singing)

*The road goes ever on and on,
Down from the door where it began.
Now far ahead the road has gone,
And I must follow if I can...*

Frodo runs to the cart, stopping on a bank above it. He folds his arms and looks down.

FRODO

You're late!

Gandalf brings the carriage to a stop. He slowly looks up from under his floppy hat.

GANDALF

(seriously)

A wizard is never late, Frodo Baggins.
Nor is he early. He arrives precisely when he means to.

Both, he and Frodo, look at each other for a moment, then slowly begin to grin and crack up into laughter. Frodo leaps onto the front seat and hugs the old man.

FRODO

It's wonderful to see you Gandalf!

GANDALF

(laughs)

Ooh! You didn't think I'd miss your Uncle Bilbo's birthday?

EXT. HOBBITON FIELDS - DAY

Gandalf resumes his drive towards Hobbiton, Frodo right next to him. The wizard smokes a long pipe.

GANDALF

So, how is the old rascal? I hear it's going to be a party of special magnificence.

FRODO

You know Bilbo. He's got the whole place in an uproar.

GANDALF

Well, that should please him.

Gandalf chuckles.

FRODO

Half the Shire's been invited.

They drive past a few Hobbits working on a field of bright crops.

FRODO (CONT'D)

And the rest of them are turning up anyway.

Gandalf and Frodo both laugh. They approach a water mill and cross the river over a small stone bridge.

BILBO (V.O.)

"And so, life in the Shire goes on very much as it has this past Age ... full of its own comings and goings, with change coming slowly ..."

The Hobbit, who tried to remove the parasite from his ear, still struggles and shakes his hand.

The cart climbs up a slope through the village, which is surrounded by large trees and green hills.

BILBO (V.O.) (CONT'D)

"... if it comes at all. For things are made to endure in the Shire, passing from one generation to the next. There's always been a Baggins, living here under the Hill ... in Bag End."

INT. BAG END STUDY - DAY

Bilbo stops writing and looks up.

BILBO

(thoughtful)

And there always will be.

EXT. HOBBITON FIELDS - DAY

FRODO

(concerned)

To tell you the truth, Bilbo's been a bit odd lately. I mean, more than usual.

Gandalf listens thoughtfully, smoking his pipe.

FRODO (CONT'D)
He's taken to locking himself in his study.

INT. BAG END STUDY - DAY

Bilbo picks up a map of Middle-Earth, looks at it, then closes it and puts it down.

FRODO (V.O.)
He spends hours and hours poring over old maps when he thinks I'm not looking.

Bilbo pats his pants pockets. Suddenly, an expression of alarm comes over his face. He digs urgently into his pockets and turns them out, becoming more frantic.

BILBO
(worried)
Where's it gone?

Bilbo desperately searches the missing item in the whole house, turning over cushions and clothes. He becomes angry.

Finally, he shoves his hands into his vest pockets and stops with a sigh. He removes his hands from the pocket, the found item clenched in his fist. After taking a look at it, he holds it to his mouth in relief.

EXT. HOBBITON FIELDS - DAY

FRODO
(thoughtful)
He's up to something.

Gandalf glances at Frodo, who slowly looks back, waiting for an answer. The wizard avoids the gaze, deliberately staring at the scenery and smoking his pipe.

(smiling)
All right, then. Keep your secrets.

GANDALF
What?

FRODO
But I know you have something to do with it.

GANDALF

Good gracious me!

FRODO

Before you came along, we Bagginses were very well thought of.

GANDALF

Indeed?

FRODO

Never had any adventures or did anything unexpected.

GANDALF

If you're referring to the incident with the dragon, I was barely involved. All I did was give your uncle a little nudge out of the door.

FRODO

Whatever you did, you've been officially labeled a disturber of the peace.

GANDALF

Oh really?

The cart drives past suspicious Everard Proudfoot, who cleans his front yard. Gandalf gazes at him and the grumpy Hobbit glares back. His wife Aurora comes out of the house.

EXT. HOBBITON - DAY

As the cart drives through the green village, Hobbit children are drawn to the sight of the old wizard and his cart. They run towards Gandalf.

HOBBIT CHILDREN

(shouting excitedly)

Gandalf! Gandalf! Fireworks? Gandalf?

The children rush past the Proudfoots, Aurora looks on in disapproval. Gandalf pretends to ignore the children. They come to a disappointed halt as the cart keeps on going away.

Fireworks go off from the cart. The hobbit children cheer and Gandalf laughs pleased. Everard chuckles, but his angry wife gives him a stern look. Everard restores his grumpy face.

FRODO

Gandalf, I'm glad you're back.

Frodo leaps from the cart. Gandalf smiles.

GANDALF
So am I, dear boy.

The wizard takes a puff from the pipe.

(thoughtful)
So am I.

The wizard continues his way through Hobbiton until he stops his cart outside Bag End.

GANDALF
(to the horse)
Whoa, whoa.

He gets down and goes through the gate which bears a sign saying: "No admittance except on party business."

EXT. BAG END - DAY

Gandalf raises his staff and raps on the front door.

BILBO (O.S.)
No thank you! We don't want any more visitors, well-wishers or distant relations!

GANDALF
And what about very old friends?

Bilbo opens the door.

BILBO
(amazed)
Gandalf?

GANDALF
Bilbo Baggins!

BILBO
My dear Gandalf!

Gandalf drops to his knee to embrace his old friend. They hug.

GANDALF
Good to see you! One hundred and eleven years old - who would believe it?
(surprised)
You haven't aged a day.

They both laugh as Bilbo bids the wizard inside.

BILBO

Come on, come in! Welcome, welcome! Oh, here we are.

INT. BAG END LIVING ROOM - DAY

Gandalf follows the Hobbit through the round door, watching out not to bump his head. Bilbo closes the door.

BILBO (CONT'D)

Tea? Or maybe something a little stronger?

Gandalf hands Bilbo his staff and hat. The Hobbit takes it from him and puts it away.

BILBO (CONT'D)

I've got a few bottles of the Old Winyard left. Twelve ninety-six - very good year. Almost as old as I am.

Bilbo laughs and runs down the corridor towards the kitchen.

(shouting)

It was laid down by my father. What say we open one, eh?

GANDALF

Just tea, thank you.

Gandalf bumps his back into the chandelier and steadies it. He turns around, hitting his head on a beam. The wizard nurses the pain with his hand and enters Bilbo's study.

BILBO (O.S.) (CONT'D)

I was expecting you sometime last week. Not that it matters, you come and go as you please. Always have done and always will. You caught me a bit unprepared, I'm afraid. We've only got cold chicken and a bit of pickle ... Oh, there's some cheese here - oh no, that won't do.

Gandalf examines Thorin's map of the Lonely Mountain, which is mounted on a frame.

Err, we got raspberry jam and an apple tart ... Not much for afters, I'm afraid. Oh, no - we're all right! I've found some sponge-cake.

Bilbo enters the room with some food in his hands but the wizard apparently disappeared.

BILBO (CONT'D)
I could make you some eggs if you ...
(baffled)
... oh - Gandalf?

Gandalf suddenly peers from the kitchen behind the Hobbit.

GANDALF
Just tea, thank you.

Bilbo turns round with a smile.

BILBO
(with mouthful, mumbling)
Oh, right!

He takes a bite of food.

BILBO (CONT'D)
You don't mind if I eat, do you?

GANDALF
No, not at all.

Gandalf sits down on a chair at the kitchen table. There is a loud knocking on the door.

LOBELIA (O.S.)
(shouting)
Bilbo Baggins!

Bilbo jumps out of sight, pressing his body against the wall.

BILBO
(to Gandalf, whispering)
I'm not at home!

He tiptoes to the window and peeps outside.

BILBO (CONT'D)
It's the Sackville-Bagginses.

LOBELIA (O.S.)
I know you're in there!

BILBO (CONT'D)
They're after the house. They've never forgiven me for living this long!

The Hobbit tiptoes back to the kitchen.

BILBO (CONT'D)

I've got to get away from these confounded relatives hanging on the bell all day, never giving me a moment's peace.

Gandalf tries to make himself comfortable at the small furniture.

BILBO (CONT'D)

I want to see mountains again ... mountains Gandalf! And then find somewhere quiet where I can finish my book. Oh, tea!

Bilbo hurries to take the kettle from the fire.

GANDALF

So, you mean to go through with your plan, then?

BILBO

Yes, yes. It's all in hand. All the arrangements are made.

Gandalf lifts up the lid of the tea pot.

BILBO (CONT'D)

Oh, thank you.

Bilbo starts to pour water into it.

GANDALF

Frodo suspects something.

BILBO

'Course he does. He's a Baggins! Not some block-headed Bracegirdle from Hardbottle.

The Hobbit returns the kettle to the fireplace.

GANDALF

You will tell him, won't you?

BILBO

Yes, yes.

GANDALF

He's very fond of you.

Bilbo thinks about the statement for a second.

BILBO
(seriously)
I know. He'd probably come with me if I asked him.
I think, in his heart, Frodo's still in love with the Shire, the woods, the fields, ... little rivers.

The Hobbit stands gazing out of the kitchen window.

BILBO (CONT'D)
I'm old, Gandalf.

Bilbo looks at Gandalf sadly.

BILBO (CONT'D)
I know I don't look it, but I'm beginning to feel it in my heart.

Gandalf gazes at his friend in tense when Bilbo's fingers reach into his waistcoat pocket, fidgeting a small, unseen object. Bilbo sits down wearily at the table.

BILBO (CONT'D)
I feel thin, sort of stretched, like butter scraped over too much bread. I need a holiday, a very long holiday. And I don't expect I shall return. In fact,
I mean not to.

EXT. PARTY FIELD, HOBBITON - NIGHT

Bilbo and Gandalf sit peacefully smoking pipe outside Bag
End. They overlook the party field, where last preparations are being made.

BILBO
Old Toby. The finest weed in the Southfarthing.

Bilbo blows a perfect ring of smoke which hangs gently in the still air. Gandalf sucks his cheeks in and out and blows a full-rigged ship through the ring.

BILBO (CONT'D)
Gandalf, my old friend, this will be a night to remember.
